IIM Jammu, J&K to establish centre for innovation and transformation in governance

CITaG aims to drive economic transformation and sustainable development in J&K

IIM Jammu to lead CITaG initiatives, focusing on PPP projects and capacity building

The Jammu and Kashmir Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu on Monday to establish the Centre for Innovation and Transformation in Governance (CITaG). This initiative aims to drive positive change and foster innovation in governance through research, education, and collaborative efforts.

Jammu and Kashmir Chief Secretary Atal Dulloo described the MoU as a significant step towards inclusive development across all departments in the Union Territory (UT). He emphasised that the collaboration would provide a platform to accelerate development and urged officials to focus on areas with high potential for industrial attraction by combining theory with actionable strategies.

An IIM Jammu official explained that the MoU's goal is to empower government institutions, policymakers, and public servants to address complex challenges, promote sustainable development, and enhance the well-being of the UT. The MoU was signed by IIM Jammu Director Professor B S Sahay and Administrative Secretary of the Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department, Mohammad Aijaz, in the presence of Dulloo at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar.

The CITaG will focus on key areas such as economic transformation, public-private partnerships (PPP), capacity building, e-governance, and data-driven decision-making. The initiative integrates efforts from the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, the PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs, and future-ready governance initiatives by the J&K Government. IIM Jammu will serve as the nodal agency, knowledge partner, and implementing body for CITaG.

According to the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a project management unit to coordinate CITaG activities and provide knowledge support. The implementation plan is divided into two phases: Phase I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, developing new tourist destinations, job creation, and fiscal strengthening; Phase II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT, and human resource development.

This collaboration between IIM Jammu and the Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department aims to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for prosperity, growth, and sustainable development in the region.

IIM Jammu sign MoU to establish centre for innovation & transformation in governance

This strategic alliance aims to spearhead positive change and foster innovation in governance practices through pioneering research, educational initiatives, and collaborative endeavors.

The Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department of Jammu and Kashmir took a significant stride as it inked a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with the Indian Institute of Management, Jammu (IIM Jammu), heralding the establishment of the Centre for Innovation and Transformation in Governance (CITaG). This strategic alliance aims to spearhead positive change and foster innovation in governance practices through pioneering research, educational initiatives, and collaborative endeavors.

Emphasizing the importance of this collaboration, Jammu and Kashmir Chief Secretary Atal Dulloo underscored that the MoU's objective is not limited to working in isolation but is inclusive of all departments for the holistic development of the Union Territory (UT). "It will provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating development," he remarked, urging officers to identify key areas and concentrate on the convergence of resources within Jammu and Kashmir.

Dulloo further stressed the importance of focusing on areas with the potential to attract industries, advocating for the integration of theory with actionable strategies. An official from IIM Jammu highlighted that the MoU seeks to empower government institutions, policymakers, and public servants to address complex challenges, drive sustainable development, and enhance the well-being of the UT.

The MoU signing ceremony, held at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar, saw IIM Jammu's Director, Prof. B S Sahay, and Administrative Secretary of the Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), Mohammad Aijaz, sealing the pact in the presence of Chief Secretary Dulloo. The official outlined CITaG's focus on several critical areas, including economic transformation aligned with India's vision of 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047, fostering public-private partnerships (PPP), and advancing future-ready governance through capacity building, e-governance, and data-driven decision-making.

CITaG, conceptualized through the amalgamation of various entities including the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, and the PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs, aims to redefine governance paradigms. Acting as the nodal agency, knowledge partner, and implementing body, IIM Jammu will drive this initiative forward. The MoU delineates a two-phase implementation plan, with the initial phase focusing on PPP projects, agricultural development, tourism, job creation, and fiscal strengthening, while the subsequent phase will address infrastructure, social sectors, IT, and human resource development.

Through this collaboration, IIM Jammu and the PD&MD are poised to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, charting a course towards prosperity, growth, and sustainable development in the region.

IIM Jammu: CITaG To Be Established By J&K Govt

May 28, 2024

The Centre for Innovation and Transformation in Governance (CITaG) was established by an agreement signed on Monday between the Jammu and Kashmir Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department and IIM Jammu. Through innovative research, teaching, and cooperative efforts, the CITaG aims to stimulate positive change and encourage innovation in governance practices.

Atal Dulloo, the chief secretary for Jammu and Kashmir, hailed the move as noteworthy and stated that the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) aims to improve the Union Territory (UT) by including all ministries, not just one. He asked the officials to identify the regions and concentrate on the convergence of all available resources in J-K. "It will provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating development," he said.

IIM Jammu CITaG

Additionally, he requested that they concentrate on areas with the "potential to attract industry where we can stitch the theory with actionable points". The MoU intends to enable government institutions, policymakers, and public servants to take on difficult challenges, promote sustainable development, and improve the well-being of the UT of J-K, according to a representative of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu.

He stated that in the presence of Dulloo at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar, the Memorandum of Understanding was signed by the Director of IIM Jammu, Prof. B. S. Sahay, and the Administrative Secretary of the Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), Muhammad Aijaz. The official stated that the CITaG will prioritise several important areas, such as creating plans that support India's goal of 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047, fostering public-private partnerships (PPPs) to bolster the development process, and advancing future-ready governance through e-governance, capacity building, and data-driven decision-making.

According to the source, the Department of Economic Affairs' PPP Cell, the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, and the J-K Government's future-ready governance strategy were all integrated to create the CITaG. According to him, the initiative will be guided by the IIM Jammu, which will act as the focal agency, knowledge partner, and implementing body. The MoU states that IIM Jammu will set up a project management unit to oversee CITaG operations and offer knowledge assistance to fulfil its vision, purpose, and objectives, the official stated.

He said that the MoU outlines a two-phase implementation plan, with phase II addressing infrastructure development, social sectors, IT, and human resource development, and phase I focusing on PPP projects, agriculture and related sectors, development of new tourism destinations, job creation, and strengthening fiscal positions. According to the official, IIM Jammu and the PD&MD are ready to break new ground in governance and innovation through this partnership, opening the door for future prosperity, expansion, and sustainable development in the area.

The CITaG will focus on key areas such as economic transformation, public-private partnerships (PPP), capacity building, e-governance, and data-driven decision-making. The initiative integrates efforts from the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, the PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs, and future-ready governance initiatives by the J&K Government. IIM Jammu will serve as the nodal agency, knowledge partner, and implementing body for CITaG.

According to the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a project management unit to coordinate CITaG activities and provide knowledge support. The implementation plan is divided into two phases: Phase I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, developing new tourist destinations, job creation, and fiscal strengthening; Phase II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT, and human resource development.

This collaboration between IIM Jammu and the Planning, Development, and Monitoring Department aims to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for prosperity, growth, and sustainable development in the region.

J-K govt inks pact with IIM Jammu for driving governance transformation

By May 27, 2024 8:28 PM

Jammu, May 27 (PTI) The Jammu and Kashmir planning, development and monitoring department on Monday signed an MoU with IIM, Jammu to establish the centre for innovation and transformation in governance (CITaG).

The CITaG is envisioned to catalyse positive change and foster innovation in governance practices through cutting-edge research, education and collaborative initiatives.

Terming the step as significant, Jammu and Kashmir Chief Secretary Atal Dulloo said the purpose of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is not to work in isolation but inclusive of all departments for development of the Union Territory (UT).

"It will provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating development," he said, and asked the officers to identify the areas and focus on convergence of all available resources in J-K.

He also asked them to focus on those areas which have the "potential to attract industry where we can stitch the theory with actionable points".

An official of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu said the MoU aims to empower government institutions, policy-makers and public servants to tackle complex challenges, drive sustainable development and enhance the well-being of the UT of J-K.

He said the MoU was signed by IIM Jammu Director Prof B S Sahay and Administrative Secretary of Planning, Development and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), Mohammad Aijaz, in the presence of Dulloo at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar.

The official said the CITaG will focus on several key areas, including economic transformation by devising strategies aligned with India's vision of 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047, promoting public-private partnerships (PPP) to strengthen the development process and advancing future ready governance through capacity building, e-governance and data-driven decision-making.

The CITaG has been conceptualised by integrating the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs and future ready governance, an initiative of the J-K Government, the official said.

He said the IIM Jammu will serve as the nodal agency, knowledge partner and implementing body to steer the initiative.

According to the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a project management unit to coordinate CITaG activities and provide knowledge support to achieve its vision, mission and goals, the official said.

He said the MoU outlines a two-phase implementation plan where phase-I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, development of new tourist destinations, job creation and strengthening fiscal positions, while phase-II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT and human resource development.

With this collaboration, IIM Jammu and the PD&MD are poised to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for a future of prosperity, growth and sustainable development in the region, the official said. PTI TAS TAS KSS KSS

Srinagar, May 27: Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu and Planning, Development and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), J&K, on Monday, signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) for the establishment of Centre for Innovation and Transformation in Governance (CITaG) in J&K here.

The MoU was signed in the presence of Chief Secretary, Atal Dulloo, at the civil secretariat here.

Director IIM Jammu, Prof BS Sahay and Secretary PD&MD, Mohammad Aijaz signed the MoU.

Terming the step as significant, the Chief Secretary said that it would provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating the development of J&K.

He asked the officers to identify areas and focus on the convergence of all available resources in J&K.

Dulloo asked them to focus on those areas which had the potential to attract industry where one could stitch the theory with actionable points.

He said that the purpose of the MoU was not to work in isolation but inclusive of all departments for the development of J&K.

CITaG is an umbrella body encompassing innovative features like the establishment of the State Institute of Transformation, encouraging public-private partnership and ensuring future-ready governance in J&K.

The chief secretary said that it would be accomplished with a vision to foster innovation and positive changes in governance practices through the introduction of cutting-edge research, high-quality education and collaborative initiatives to empower government institutions and policymakers to tackle complex challenges, drive sustainable development and enhance the well-being of people of Jammu and Kashmir.

Director IIM Jammu, Prof BS Sahay said that the aim was to transform J&K as one of the best-performing states and UTs in the country.

“IIM Jammu should be overall in charge of CITaG for the deliverance of all assignments besides collaborating with various stakeholders and knowledge partners,” he said.

Secretary Planning, Mohammad Aijaz, highlighted the importance of MoU and gave an outline of the mission and goals of CITaG.

A detailed presentation was also given on the occasion highlighting focus areas of CITaG and devising the strategies for the transformation of J&K's economy.

It was given out that the focus area of CITaG would be formulating the development vision of Jammu and Kashmir@2047 in alignment with India's vision of Viksit Bharat @2047.

The presentation emphasised strengthening future-ready governance in J&K by capacity building of officials on emerging trends in governance and public administration.

The event also witnessed the presence of Administrative Secretaries of Agriculture, Finance, Higher Education, H&UD, Tourism, I&C Departments, DGs from Planning and Finance and other senior officers and officials of the concerned departments.

J&K Govt inks pact with IIM Jammu for driving governance transformation.

27 MAY 2024Avatar

PTI JAMMUJAMMU AND KASHMIR POST

Jammu, May 27 (PTI) The Jammu and Kashmir planning, development and monitoring department on Monday signed an MoU with IIM, Jammu to establish the centre for innovation and transformation in governance (CITaG).

The CITaG is envisioned to catalyse positive change and foster innovation in governance practices through cutting-edge research, education and collaborative initiatives.

Terming the step as significant, Jammu and Kashmir Chief Secretary Atal Dulloo said the purpose of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is not to work in isolation but inclusive of all departments for development of the Union Territory (UT).

“It will provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating development,” he said, and asked the officers to identify the areas and focus on convergence of all available resources in J-K.

He also asked them to focus on those areas which have the “potential to attract industry where we can stitch the theory with actionable points”.

An official of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu said the MoU aims to empower government institutions, policy-makers and public servants to tackle complex challenges, drive sustainable development and enhance the well-being of the UT of J-K.

He said the MoU was signed by IIM Jammu Director Prof B S Sahay and Administrative Secretary of Planning, Development and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), Mohammad Aijaz, in the presence of Dulloo at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar.

The official said the CITaG will focus on several key areas, including economic transformation by devising strategies aligned with India's vision of 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047, promoting public-private partnerships (PPP) to strengthen the development process and advancing future ready governance through capacity building, e-governance and data-driven decision-making.

The CITaG has been conceptualised by integrating the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs and future ready governance, an initiative of the J-K Government, the official said.

He said the IIM Jammu will serve as the nodal agency, knowledge partner and implementing body to steer the initiative.

According to the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a project management unit to coordinate CITaG activities and provide knowledge support to achieve its vision, mission and goals, the official said.

He said the MoU outlines a two-phase implementation plan where phase-I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, development of new tourist destinations, job creation and strengthening fiscal positions, while phase-II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT and human resource development.

With this collaboration, IIM Jammu and the PD&MD are poised to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for a future of prosperity, growth and sustainable development in the region, the official said.

The Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) will focus on several key areas, including Economic Transformation by devising strategies aligned with India's vision of Viksit Bharat @2047, promoting Public-Private Partnerships (PPP) to strengthen the development process in the U.T of Jammu and Kashmir, and advancing Future Ready Governance (FRG) through capacity building, e-governance, and data-driven decision-making. Chief Guest Shri Atal Dulloo, IAS, Chief Secretary, J&K, expressed his enthusiasm, stating, "The establishment of the Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) marks a new chapter in the governance of Jammu and Kashmir. This initiative will drive innovation and transform governance practices, ensuring that we are well-prepared to meet future challenges."

Prof. B.S. Sahay, Director, IIM Jammu, highlighted the institute's commitment: "IIM Jammu is happy to partner with the Govt. of Jammu and Kashmir in this transformative initiative. The Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) will leverage our expertise in management and technology to foster innovation, economic transformation, and sustainable development in Jammu and Kashmir."

Shri Mohammad Aijaz, IAS, Administrative Secretary, Planning, Development & Monitoring Department (PD&MD), remarked, "The MoU with IIM Jammu will bring a wealth of knowledge and expertise to our governance practices, ensuring a future-ready administration in the U.T of Jammu and Kashmir. The Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) will be instrumental in executing key projects and fostering public-private partnerships."

Prof. Jabir Ali, Dean Academics, IIM Jammu, added, "The Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) will serve as a hub for research and innovation, providing the necessary support and resources to tackle the unique challenges faced by the U.T of Jammu and Kashmir. This partnership will create a conducive environment for the development and growth of Jammu and Kashmir."

The MoU signing ceremony was graced by several key dignitaries, ranging from Shri Shailendra Kumar, IAS, Principal Secretary to Government, Agriculture Production & Farmers Welfare Department, Shri Santosh D. Vaidya, IAS, Principal Secretary to Government, Finance Department, Shri Alok Kumar (IRS), Principal Secretary to Government, Higher Education Department, Ms. Mandeep Kaur, IAS, Commissioner/Secretary to Government, Housing & Urban Development Department, Ms. Yasha Mudgal, IAS, Commissioner/Secretary to Government, Tourism Department, Shri Vikramjit Singh, IPS, Commissioner/Secretary to Government, Industries & Commerce Department, Dr. Muqbil Burhan, Chairperson Srinagar Campus, IIM Jammu, and other key officials of the Govt. of Jammu and Kashmir.

The Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) has been conceptualized by integrating the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs, and Future Ready Governance, an initiative of the J&K Government. IIM Jammu will serve as the Nodal Agency, Knowledge Partner and implementing body to steer the initiative.

As per the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a Project Management Unit (PMU) to coordinate Centre for Innovation &

Transformation in Governance (CITaG) activities and provide knowledge support to achieve its vision, mission, and goals. The MoU outlines a two-phase implementation plan where Phase I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, development of new tourist destinations, job creation, and strengthening fiscal positions. Phase II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT, and human resource development.

The collaboration aims to bring Jammu and Kashmir to the forefront of innovation and governance, setting a benchmark for other regions. The Centre for Innovation & Transformation in Governance (CITaG) is expected to drive economic growth, improve governance, and enhance the quality of life for the people of Jammu and Kashmir. With this collaboration, IIM Jammu and the Planning, Development & Monitoring Department (PD & MD) of the Govt. of Jammu and Kashmir are poised to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for a future of prosperity, growth, and sustainable development in the region.

J&K Govt inks pact with IIM Jammu for driving governance transformation

■ NW REPORT
JAMMU, MAY 27

The Jammu and Kashmir planning, development and monitoring department on Monday signed an MoU with IIM, Jammu to establish the centre for innovation and transformation in governance (CITaG).

The CITaG is envisioned to catalyse positive change and foster innovation in governance practices through cutting-edge research, education and collaborative initiatives.

Terming the step as significant, Jammu and Kashmir Chief Secretary Atal Dullooo said the purpose of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is not to work in isolation but inclusive of all departments for development of the Union Territory (UT).

"It will provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating development," he said, and asked the officers to identify the areas and focus on convergence of all available resources in J-K.

He also asked them to focus on those areas which have the "potential to attract industry where we can stitch the theory with actionable points".

An official of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu said the MoU aims to empower government institutions, policy-makers and public servants to tackle complex challenges, drive sustainable development and enhance the well-being of the UT of J-K.

He said the MoU was signed by IIM Jammu Director Prof B S Sahay and Administrative Secretary of Planning, Development and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), Mohammad Aijaz, in the presence of Dulloo at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar.

The official said the CITaG will focus on several key areas, including economic transformation by devising strategies aligned with India's vision of 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047, promoting public-private partnerships (PPP) to strengthen the development process and advancing future ready governance through capacity building, e-governance and data-driven decision-making.

The CITaG has been conceptualised by integrating the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs and future ready governance, an initiative of the J-K Government, the official said.

He said the IIM Jammu will serve as the nodal agency, knowledge partner and implementing body to steer the initiative.

According to the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a project management unit to coordinate CITaG activities and provide knowledge support to achieve its vision, mission and goals, the official said.

He said the MoU outlines a two-phase implementation plan where phase-I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, development of new tourist destinations, job creation and strengthening fiscal positions, while phase-II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT and human resource development.

With this collaboration, IIM Jammu and the PD&MD are poised to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for a future of prosperity, growth and sustainable development in the region, the official said.

J&K govt inks pact with IIM Jammu for driving governance transformation

Initiative will accelerate growth, development: Chief Secretary

Jammu: The Jammu and Kashmir's Planning, Development and Monitoring Department on Monday signed a MoU with IIM Jammu to establish the Centre for Innovation and Transformation in Governance (CITaG).

The CITaG is envisioned to catalyse positive change and foster innovation in governance practices through cutting-edge research, education and collaborative initiatives, an official press release informed Monday.

Terming the step as significant, Jammu and Kashmir Chief Secretary Atal Dulloo said the purpose of the Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) is not to work in isolation but inclusive of all departments for development of the Union Territory (UT).

“It will provide a suitable platform and great opportunity for all in terms of accelerating development,” he said, and asked the officers to identify the areas and focus on convergence of all available resources in J&K.

He also asked them to focus on those areas which have the “potential to attract industry where we can stitch the theory with actionable points”.

An official of the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Jammu said the MoU aims to empower government institutions, policy-makers and public servants to tackle complex challenges, drive sustainable development and enhance the well-being of the UT of J&K.

He said the MoU was signed by IIM Jammu Director Prof B S Sahay and Administrative Secretary of Planning, Development and Monitoring Department (PD&MD), Mohammad Aijaz, in the presence of Dulloo at the Civil Secretariat in Srinagar.

The official said the CITaG will focus on several key areas, including economic transformation by devising strategies aligned with India's vision of 'Viksit Bharat' by 2047, promoting public-private partnerships (PPP) to strengthen the development process and advancing future ready governance through capacity building, e-governance and data-driven decision-making.

The CITaG has been conceptualised by integrating the State Institute of Transformation, NITI Aayog, PPP Cell funded by the Department of Economic Affairs and future ready governance, an initiative of the J-K Government, the official said.

He said the IIM Jammu will serve as the nodal agency, knowledge partner and implementing body to steer the initiative.

According to the MoU, IIM Jammu will establish a project management unit to coordinate CITaG activities and provide knowledge support to achieve its vision, mission and goals, the official said.

He said the MoU outlines a two-phase implementation plan where phase-I will focus on PPP projects, agriculture and allied sectors, development of new tourist destinations, job creation and strengthening fiscal positions, while phase-II will address infrastructure development, social sectors, IT and human resource development.

With this collaboration, IIM Jammu and the PD&MD are poised to set new benchmarks in governance and innovation, paving the way for a future of prosperity, growth and sustainable development in the region, the official said.

The same would be accomplished with a vision to foster innovation and positive changes in governance practices through introduction of cutting edge research, high quality education and collaborative initiatives to empower government institutions and policy makers to tackle complex challenges, drive sustainable development and enhance well-being of people of Jammu and Kashmir.

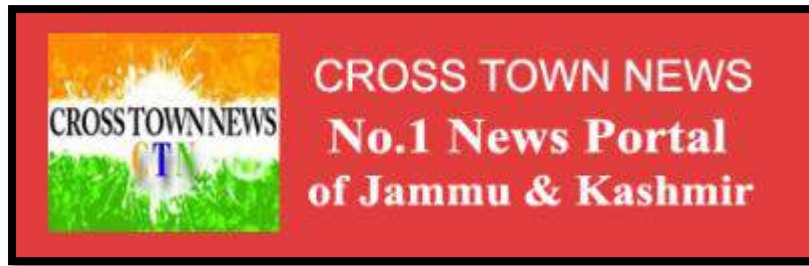

Director IIM, while speaking on the occasion, said that our aim is to transform Jammu and Kashmir as one of the best performing UTs in the country. IIM Jammu shall be overall incharge of CITaG for deliverance of all assignments besides will collaborate with various stakeholders and knowledge partners.

Secretary (Planning), Aijaz Asad, highlighted the importance of MoU and gave an outline of the mission and goals of CITaG.

A detailed presentation was also given on the occasion highlighting focus areas of CITaG and devising the strategies for transformation of UT's economy. It was given out that focus area of CITaG will be formulating development vision of Jammu and Kashmir@2047 in alignment with India's vision of Viksit Bharat @2047. The presentation laid emphasis on strengthening Future Ready Governance in Jammu and Kashmir by capacity building of officials on emerging trends in governance and public administration.

The event also witnessed presence of Administrative Secretaries of Agriculture, Finance, Higher Education, H&UD, Tourism, I&C Departments, DGs from Planning and Finance and other senior officers and officials of the concerned departments.(KNS)
